

The Client Interviewing Competition for England & Wales 2009

President: Sir Geoffrey Bindman

Law students, working in teams of two, interview and advise a “client” -a role-playing actor. Each law school can enter one team in the national competition. This year, the scenarios focus on negligence & related tort claims.

Regionals: Competitors take part in a regional heat being held in January 2009. Eight teams go forward to the national finals.

Finals: are held at Anglia Ruskin University on 28th February 2009. In the finals, each team interviews three clients. The highest scoring team over these three rounds will be winners.

The International: The winners will go on to represent England & Wales at the international competition which will be in Las Vegas from 1-4 April 2009.

Prizes: The winning team members get prizes from the Law Society of £250 each and the winning law school £1000 to help cover their costs.

Entry fee: £75/ Closing date for entries: 7th November 2008

www.clientinterviewing.com

Affiliated to the Louis M. Brown International Client Counselling Competition and the International Bar Association.
Prizes given by the Law Society.